SPECIALIZED HOME DESIGN'S (SHD'S)

FOCUS ON EDUCATION

Education is the focus for this month's newsletter. We all know the value of a good education and learning is a never ending process. As professionals, we are often asked "Where did you go to school at?" or "What kind of training do you have?"

At SHD we offer several seminars to advance your knowledge in the arena of universal and accessible home design. Our seminars can help fulfill CEU requirements for many medical and construction professions. Although SHD's primary audience for our seminars has been medical professionals, we are expanding our focal point to include construction and design professionals. However, anyone else interested in learning about universal and accessible design is welcome to participate.
