

Design Team

- These professionals (i.e. architects, home designers, kitchen and bath designers, etc.) will work with all interested parties to create an environment that functions for the client. They will also provide the aesthetics to make a home beautiful as well as functional. At times, one may work with a designer prior to working with a construction professional. This depends on who is directing the home modification project.