Family Mentoring

Imagine you're at the playground with your child. It doesn't take long before your child makes a new friend.

At first glance, the friend's mother seems very different from you.

She strikes up a conversation with you and it doesn't take long to realize you have a lot in common.

The kids are getting hungry so you each give them a snack to share. They love the snacks so you exchange recipes with one another.

As you leave the playground, you realize you gained more than new recipes – you gained a new friend.

A simple conversation broke down the barriers and you recognized how alike you two really were.

Family Promise-Community Circle works this way too. We bring our families together with others in community. By socializing, sharing meals and learning together, we all begin to see what we have in common and the things we can learn from each other.

This helps families build strong connections to their community and allows us to share the gifts we have with each other. It helps us discover opportunities available in our community and establishes a stable foundation for families to grow stronger as they work towards becoming more independent.

In this way, the entire community is coming together to create a better life for each other.

Are you looking to inspire and be inspired? Join our community circle.

There's something about being a part of a community that creates a sense of belonging. It connects us to people who provide emotional support and social connections. We are always looking for people to join our community circle. It doesn't require any special training – just a willingness to get to know those living right here in our community.

As a group, we'll talk about the good things happening in each other's lives. This provides the opportunity to learn how you can help each other and grow together. It may be something as simple as recommending a good childcare facility or acting as a sounding board. Even if you don't offer the particular skill someone needs, you may know someone who does. It's just about getting to know our families and helping each other create connections in the community.

Please consider joining our community circle or donating to support our efforts.
